

Be cyber secure: mobile devices

Shopping, banking, donating to your favorite charity — you can now do almost everything with the click of a button. While enjoying these conveniences, make sure you are not sharing sensitive information in applications or online accounts, which could make your mobile devices a prime target for cybercriminals. Simple best practices can help you minimize your risks.

With your passwords and access, cybercriminals can:

- Transfer funds out of your accounts or charge purchases to them.
- Create a fake identity with some of your information and use it to open a new financial accounts.
- Phish using your email address or social media accounts to reach your contacts and convince them to share confidential information.
- Steal your identity and claim your tax refund or government benefits.

Be proactive:

- Act immediately if you receive a changed password notification, an attempted log in alert from a provider or if your account access on an app changes and you did not initiate it.
- Lock your mobile device with a strong password or, when able, use biometric protection. Use a unique and different password for each of your apps and accounts.
- Install or activate anti-theft software or apps that can lock down your phone remotely, and apps that will help you locate your device.
- Only download apps from official app stores, and regularly update both your apps and your operating system to protect your devices.
- Only access mobile or online banking through a secured Wi-Fi connection.
- Minimize the amount of personal information you store on your devices or share online.

If you suspect you have been targeted:

- Don't delay. Acting quickly after an event can minimize its impact.
- Report stolen devices to your service provider. If you provide the unique device identification number, they may be able to disable it.
- Change all passwords that may have been compromised.
- Call the police and file reports with the relevant local authorities.
- Document everything about the event. The more information you have, the better armed you may be to assist an investigation by your company, your bank and law enforcement officials, and the better prepared you will be against future events.

Visit www.bankofamerica.com/security to learn how to help protect yourself and those closest to you.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Neither Bank of America nor its affiliates provide information security or information technology (IT) consulting services. This material is provided “as is”, with no guarantee of completeness, accuracy, timeliness or of the results obtained from the use of this material, and without warranty of any kind, express or implied, including, but not limited to warranties of performance, quality and fitness for a particular purpose. This material should be regarded as general information on information security and IT considerations and is not intended to provide specific information security or IT advice nor is it any substitute for your own independent investigations. If you have questions regarding your particular IT system or information security concerns, please contact your IT or information security advisor.

Bank of America Private Bank is a division of Bank of America, N.A., Member FDIC, and a wholly-owned subsidiary of BofA Corp.

Banking products are provided by Bank of America, N.A., and affiliated banks, Members FDIC, and wholly-owned subsidiaries of BofA Corp.

“Bank of America” and “BofA Securities” are the marketing names used by the Global Banking and Global Markets divisions of Bank of America Corporation. Lending, other commercial banking activities, and trading in certain financial instruments are performed globally by banking affiliates of Bank of America Corporation, including Bank of America, N.A., Member FDIC. Trading in securities and financial instruments, and strategic advisory, and other investment banking activities, are performed globally by investment banking affiliates of Bank of America Corporation (“Investment Banking Affiliates”), including, in the United States, BofA Securities, Inc. and Merrill Lynch Professional Clearing Corp., both of which are registered broker-dealers and Members of SIPC, and, in other jurisdictions, by locally registered entities. BofA Securities, Inc. and Merrill Lynch Professional Clearing Corp. are registered as futures commission merchants with the CFTC and are members of the NFA.

Investment products:

Are Not FDIC Insured	Are Not Bank Guaranteed	May Lose Value
-----------------------------	--------------------------------	-----------------------

© 2024 Bank of America Corporation. All rights reserved. 6779059